PRESS RELEASE

Offender Apprehended After Early-Morning Escape from Sussex Community Corrections Center

An offender who escaped early this morning from the Work Release Building of the Sussex Community Corrections Center in Georgetown has been apprehended.

Charles E. Daisey Jr., 33, was discovered missing around 3 a.m. after an emergency head count. The count was conducted after a Correctional Officer noticed someone crouched outside the fence line of the facility. Upon being spotted, the individual quickly ran off across Rt. 113.

DOC staff, Delaware State Police and Georgetown Police responded and Daisey was spotted off of Shortly Road near Kings Road in Georgetown. He was apprehended around 7:30 a.m. by a Delaware State Police K-9 unit.

Daisey, who was serving a sentence for Violation of Probation on an original charge of Theft, will face Escape after Conviction charges. He is currently being held at Sussex Correctional Institution in Georgetown.
